The dollars spent to repair and/or replace property and equipment with critical deferred maintenance needs allows Riverbanks Zoo & Garden to continue executing the mission and core values of the organization. Addressing the existing deferred maintenance needs assists the Zoo & Garden in sustaining current operations, attractions and educational programs which support more than 1,300 jobs across the State of South Carolina. This allows Riverbanks to withhold its existing status as South Carolina's and the Southeast's most visited attraction, engaging residents and promoting tourism. This allows Riverbanks to continue to offer the highest standards of care for the animals and plants in their care. This allows Riverbanks to continue delivering a diverse educational and high-quality recreational experience for all Riverbanks visitors. And lastly, this allows Riverbanks Zoo & Garden to continue to inspire actions that will have a lasting impact on conservation across the State of South Carolina.
